Labuan IBFC's recently enacted a fresh legislative framework which, in addition to meeting OECD's standards for the Exchange of Information, will dramatically improve Labuan IBFC's competitive edge as an international financial centre. One of the most important developments is that Labuan IBFC is now completely open to Malaysian businesses, assets and individuals.

A total of four new Acts, together with radical amendments to four existing Acts has allowed us to introduce the following products:

- Limited Liability Partnerships
- Malaysia International Shipping Registry
- Foundations
- Private Trust Companies
- Protected Cell Companies
- Labuan Special Trust
- Takaful Captives

Labuan IBFC and the Johore Bar Committee would like to invite you to this half day seminar where we will share with you highlights of these new Acts and explain how Malaysian companies and high net worth individuals can now use Labuan IBFC.

Mike Grover, a Tax Specialist and former Ernst & Young International Tax Partner, will share the key changes brought about by this legislative changes and their structural applications.
